DARLEY'S CUOPER VIGNETTES.

ARVISTS' PROOFS.

The superior beauty and ercellence with which Mr. Darley's Designs for the REW ILLUSTIRATED EDITION OF COOPERS' NOVELS have been reproduced on the steel, have led the undersigned, at the request of numerous stits and amateurs, to cause a limited number of Proofs on India before Letter to be taken from each plate, with a view of Issuing them in a series of Foilos, with the proper descriptive letter-press.

The trenarkable spirit and power evinced in all the designs from the pencil of Mr. Darley, have signally and eminently characterized those illustrating the seches and characters of Cooper's noveis. The artis's long familiarly with the pages of our great novelist, and a hearty love and appreciation of his genius, nave resulted in the production of a series of drawings, which, for armmite, picture-sque, and vivid interest, have, perhaps, no apperiors in medern art. These drawings have been engraved with a Initifulness and care worthy their reprotation, by the acknowledged first artist in the country, exclusively in Line and Etching, and with a scrupulous rega, do the requirements of first-class at. In their madenality, and their great sup-riority over ordinary book illustrations, they especially command themselves to all connonseurs of the Fine arts.

The Proofs will be inseed in eight folios, each in tist.

Follow One and Two are now ready, and the remaining Six will follow at intervile of two or three mouths.

Phice TO SUESCRIBERS—THREE DOLLARS PER FOLIO.

As the proofs are limited to a small number (only 500 impressions from see h plate, sfer which the plates are lettered, so that no more can be taken), no subscription will be received except to the full set.

"Monsieur Feydeau has produced a Parisian sensation; Monsieur Feydeau has created a continental sensation; and among brave men and fair women be has caused a fluttering, a defictous emotion second only to a delirium.

"Bri liently has Jules Janin put forth the preface, and with an art that will righten Dumas, senior, and quicken the pulses in the heart ambitious of his glittering son.

"There is something grantly fresh and sweetly palpitating in this wondrous book, and Long has used his best taste in putting the glowing thought of the faceinsting Frenchman in the most appropriate form. How keenly the mind of Monsieur Foydeau seeks the salient points of woman's nature to reveal to all the world the beautiful miracle. We predict for this work a reputation and an extended circulation that will equal that of any other book published within a century. How sweetly sounds the one word, Fanny "and when you come to read of ner, the memory of her beauty will linger around your heart until your dying day. Fanny will be your love; she, the glorious and the divine, all woman, and yet with a blending of celestial quality, will preside over all your thoughts, impassing a tender method to your manner, and leying deeply in your hearts a gailant and chival rous devotion to woman and to love."—[Potter's Spirit.
